MAYA
 It's not only Dubai's hottest new eatery but also the latest import in hip restaurants from New York. Chef-owner, Richard Sandoval, brings us the Modern Mexican gastronomic experience that has given his New York and San Fran branches a cult-like following.

Set in amongst the landscaped gardens of Le Royal Meridien Beach Resort and Spa, (there's also a rooftop section) Maya's warm and colourful décor exudes romance, so dress up pretty and feminine (in fact, this may well be the perfect occasion to invest in that little white dress we've been telling you about).

Mixing contemporary with traditional, the kitchen provides faithfully executed classics combined with restlessly innovative dishes that challenge the palate.

Whether for the food, the atmosphere or simply because it's the current place to see and be seen, make sure you visit Maya whilst it's sizzling.
