

TAMAYO
1400 LARIMER ST.

Tamayo is a modern, exclusive and festive Mexican restaurant that has become a benchmark against which fine Mexican food is measured. This contemporary and energetic restaurant serves unexpected traditional Mexican cuisine and contributes to the elevation of Denver's dining scene. Start your meal at Tamayo with the classically delicious guacamole and follow it with one of the tantalizing entradas: We recommend the crepas de langosta with lobster, corn, goat cheese, sauteed spinach, white truffle and a creamy tomatillo sauce. All of the platos fuertes are good choices, from the chicken mole poblano to the filet mignon tampiqueña. Save room for dessert and try the coconut flan or tres leches bread pudding.

OSTERIA MARCO
1453 LARIMER ST.

Osteria Marco in Larimer Square is part of famed chef Frank Bonanno's culinary empire. The restaurant owes its style and ambience to the Italian tradition of an Osteria, where friends gather to laugh, drink wine and punctuate a social evening with great food. Highlights of the menu include pizzas, paninis, house-cured meats, antipasti and house-crafted cheeses. The wine list features nearly a hundred bottles of wine priced at less than $60. Osteria Marco is open for dining from 11 am to 10 pm every day.

BISTRO VENDÔME
1420 LARIMER SQUARE

Bistro Vendôme serves hearty cuisine that has been described as "French soul food." An evening here is an exceptional dining experience in a charming, bistro-like atmosphere. Bistro Vendôme has exposed Denver's palates to casual and authentic French-influenced fare. It feels like the type of long-established, family-owned restaurant you would find in Paris. The full-service bar features more than 65 wines representing each region of France, a collection of pastis cocktails and sparkling Champagne cocktails.

THE CAPITAL GRILLE
1450 LARIMER ST.

The Capital Grille epitomizes the top-shelf steakhouse with gleaming mahogany walls, custom wine cabinets and understated elegance. This classically elegant establishment is a sanctuary for power brokers and celebrities, yet the high level of service makes everyone feel welcome. The Capital Grille dry ages its steaks in-house and offers other traditional dishes such as chops, large North Atlantic lobsters and fresh seafood. With a relaxed atmosphere and style, the Capital Grille features an award-winning wine list; professional, gracious service; and private dining rooms perfect for conducting business or celebrating with friends.
